Application/Control Number: 10/690,095

Art Unit: 3781

Claims 1-6, 11, 13, 14, 16, 19, 26 and 31-35 have been canceled. Claims 7-10, 12, 15, 17, 18, 20-25 and 27-30 are pending.

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 22-25, 27, 29 and 30 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Quaney.

Quaney discloses a utility box for use underground and capable of defining an underground component for a septic system, the box comprises a perimeter sidewall (4, 6) terminating in an end portion (internal shoulder 8) having an inner edge, a rim extending from the exterior surface of the sidewall, the rim having an outer edge (uppermost, outermost edge) displaced radially outward and axially upward from inner edge of the end portion and defining the axial extent of the component and a plurality of generally vertical members (bosses 12) spaced about the interior surface of the sidewall attached to the interior surface up to the inside edge. The vertical members are bosses.

Re the flush limitation of claim 22, the inner end of all of the vertical members are flush with the edge of the interior surface. Re the flush limitation of claim 23, the inner end of all of the vertical members are flush with the edge of the end portion.

Re claim 27, the boss 12 is generally an inside wall portion of an inwardly protruding portion of square shape in plan or in horizontal cross section and receives the fastener 30 and the boss is connected to the sidewall by an offsetting portion (one of the radially inwardly directed wall portions of the square shaped inwardly protruding portion), the offsetting portion is a portion of the boss attached to the interior surface up to the edge (an upper edge of the interior surface at the boss)

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 28 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Quaney in view of Russell.

Quaney discloses the invention except for the cylindrical shape of the box. Russell teaches an underground box of cylindrical shape (see Fig. 3). It would have been obvious to change the shape to provide a shaped box more compatible with the instrumentation enclosed therein and of a more compact shape in order to be compatible with the components carried therein and to occupy less underground space allowing space for other utilities.

Claims 7-10, 12, 15, 17, 18, 20 and 21 are allowed.

Applicant's arguments filed August 14, 2007 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant states that the bosses on the longitudinal sides are not flush with the interior surface. The bosses 12 are located on the short sides. The limitation in claim 22 states that the members "are flush with said edge of said interior surface." The edge of the interior surface is a vertically extending surface and the inner end of the boss 12 is aligned and flush with this vertically extending surface.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).
